

RUDOLPH THE RED NOSED REINDEER

A parody by Robert Fitt

Rudolph the Red nosed Reindeer,
His bulbous nostrils shining bright,
Flew past the fog-bound landscape
To ease the darkness of the night..

But then the fog got thicker,
So thick that they could barely see.
So Rudolph moved slowly downward
To see where all the kids could be.

But then the wires came into sight,
And Santa cried: "Slow down!!!"
But sparks shot up and wires came down,
And blew the lights all over town.

Oh, how the sweethearts loved him,
They cuddled in the dark with glee;
While parents watched the reindeer
Untangle from the Christmas tree!!
